++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry with clear or sunny spells.

Today:
A fine, dry and sunny day, perhaps just an isolated shower across Argyll. Temperatures a touch higher than recent days and feeling quite humid. Light southeast breezes. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Perhaps more in the way of cloud during the evening but clear spells still likely. Some lower cloud may affect the Islands and Argyll coast later in the night. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tuesday:
Mainly dry with some warm or very warm sunshine. However, overnight low cloud may linger around far west coasts for a time during the day. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Staying dry and continuing to feel warm on Wednesday and Thursday. Low cloud may extend westwards through Central Belt overnight and be slow to clear. Perhaps some showers Friday.
